Expenditure on Improvements.

The estimated expenditure proposed by the Chief Land Inspector to be made in the preparation of estates for sale during year ending 31st March, 1907, was £108,300, but owing to insufficiency of funds we had to reduce the amount to be expended to a maximum of £78,546, thus delaying the execution of many works preparatory to sale of estates. The bulk of the expenditure was paid in wages to the tenants and members of their families on the estates under treatment. During the greater part of the year over 3,000 men were employed on the improvement works, which were chiefly drainage, road-making, fencing, house building, and planting of shelter belts of trees. The only special features of the operations carried out this year to which it is considered necessary to make particular reference are—

Shelter Belts.

1. That when laying out new holdings in rather exposed situations, stripes of land varying from a chain to a chain and a half in width, have been laid out between the boundaries of some of the new holdings and planted with Scotch fir, Austrian pine and larch, so that when these trees grow they will afford shelter to the crops and stock on the holdings.

2. On four of the Board's estates, viz., St. John's Point in County Donegal, Inniskea Islands, County Mayo, Innisturk Island, County Mayo, and Innisnee Island, County Galway, where the inhabitants live largely by fishing and the sale of kelp, arrangements have been made to provide each tenant with a small holding as conveniently arranged as possible, and to have them comfortably housed, the idea being that from the small holding each occupier would be able to procure sufficient potatoes with other vegetables and milk, for the use of the family, and look to the sea as his main source of livelihood.

Fishing Communities.

The St. John Point estate covered an area of 420 acres. Of this total 280 acres were in the owner's hands and 65 acres in the occupation of a judicial tenant whose interest the Board purchased. The remaining 75 acres were in the occupation of twenty-eight tenants, of whom only four paid rents of over three pounds, eleven paid rents over £1 and less than £3, and thirteen paid rents of £1 and under. All these people lived chiefly by fishing. Just outside the eastern boundary of the estate is the fishing village of Ballysaggart. Many of the villagers lived in wretched cabins, and as some of them had no land, eleven were provided with plots of about eight statute acres.

St. John's
Point, Co.
Donegal

The entire area of 420 acres was striped into 42 holdings; 8 new houses were erected by the Board and 7 houses by the tenants, 11 houses were re-roofed, enlarged, or otherwise improved by the tenants, who got advances of £211, which were included in the sale prices of their holdings, and £60 as free grants towards the cost of the improvements which were carried out under the supervision of the Board's officers.

Free grants of £5, together with loans of from £5 to £8, were also given to these tenants for the erection of out-offices. After a great deal of trouble all the tenants, with the exception of two, were induced to accept the Board's terms, with the result that there are now 40 families very comfortably housed and each possessing sufficient land to provide potatoes, vegetables and milk for their families, while they have to depend mainly on the sea for their living. If the fishing continues to be remunerative there will be here a fishing community settled under very desirable conditions.

On the Inniskea Islands (north and south) there were at the time of purchase 57 occupiers holding land at rents amounting to £104 5s.

Inniskee Islands.

The lands were in rundale and very badly worked. The houses were in clusters or villages, and many of them so very closely crowded together that it would have been almost impossible to keep their surroundings in a sanitary condition even if the people were alive to the necessity of doing so. But the people showed no appreciation of the necessity of good sanitary conditions, with the result that several of the dwellings and their surroundings were in an alarming condition of uncleanness. During recent years there have been some serious outbreaks of typhus fever in these islands, and the wonder rather is that they were ever free from it.

We have completely transformed the conditions in these islands by removing a large proportion of the worst of the dwellings, erecting new houses on approved sites, getting the occupiers of the houses that were not disturbed to improve them substantially and to put their surroundings into a desirable condition, and also to erect out-offices so that no live stock would be kept in the dwellings.

21 New houses and 20 out-offices have been built by Board.

30 Dwellings have been enlarged and substantially improved by the tenants with assistance from Board.

20 Out-offices have been built, or existing buildings enlarged and roofed with corrugated iron, by the tenants, with assistance from Board.

The lands have all been striped, and each tenant has got his new holding in two, or at most three, detached plots, with specified rights of grazing on the commonage. The cultivable land has been enclosed from the commonage by substantial walls to protect the crops, and the internal fences are to be made, where necessary, by the tenants themselves.

The result of our treatment of these islands will be to provide a fishing community with comfortable homes and sufficient land to raise the necessary quantity of potatoes, vegetables and milk for their families.

Inishturk.

On Inishturk Island similar work to that done in Inniskea is now in progress. At the time of purchase there were 21 families in occupation of holdings upon it.

One tenant, Patrick O'Malley, held a considerable portion of Inishturk at a rent of £16 10s. Of the remaining tenants, 17 had holdings at rents of £5 and upwards to £16, and 3 over £3 and not exceeding £5.

Patrick O'Malley has agreed to migrate to a holding in Brocks, on the Bingham estate near Newport, and his land will be utilised for enlarging the small holdings of those who remain. A number of the tenants have expressed their willingness to migrate to the mainland if they could be provided with holdings on the seashore where they would be able to pursue their avocation of fishing. But it is doubtful whether it would be advisable to further reduce the number of families who are to form a fishing community in this remote island, seven to nine miles from the nearest landing place on the mainland, as there may not then be sufficient help available to haul up the boats, and the cost of providing a safe harbour for boats to lie in in all weathers would be prohibitive. In the interests of the people themselves it appears the best thing to do, might be to remove them from this island if they could be induced to migrate to the mainland to holdings to be provided for them there.

Inishnee Island, near Roundstone, County Galway, is in the occupation of 35 tenants, holding mostly in rundale at rents amounting to £196 6s. 6d. Of these 9 held at rents of £6 and upwards, 25 at rents over £3 and under £6, and one tenant held at a rent under £3. Inishnee.

We have not induced any of these tenants to migrate. Their holdings, which were held in rundale, have all been striped, some new houses have been erected, and others are in course of erection.

In nearly all remote places where the people are unacquainted with our schemes of improvement, it is difficult to induce them to carry out the improvement of their dwellings and out-offices in the manner specified by our officers and with the assistance we offer, but we have no doubt these people will respond to our efforts to help them to improve their condition as tenants are doing in other places. At present the islanders are all employed on our works at fencing, road-making, and erection of houses for those whose dwellings had to be changed in connection with the striping of the lands.

The Robinson Estate, County Mayo, has been retained in hands for a longer period than usual in the hope of inducing a sufficient number of the tenants to migrate in order to raise the holdings of those that remained to an economic standard. Migration from Robinson Estate.

The total number of holdings on the estate is 32, of which 24 had a gross rental of £93 11s., or an average of less than £4 per holding.

Several of the holdings were greatly intermixed, and before attempting striping it was necessary to remove some of the tenants.

None of the tenants could be induced to leave until last year, when three migrated to new holdings provided for them on grass lands on another estate. The area of the holdings vacated was 62 acres, and as this was not sufficient to make an appreciable improvement on many of the holdings, we gave instructions that a special appeal should be made to the tenants in order to impress upon them the necessity of several of them migrating. In January, 1907, Mr. Dorn reported that one of the Board's Inspectors had visited the estate, and after endeavouring to make the tenants realise how poor their holdings would be if they could not be considerably enlarged, urged that a number of them should go to Roscommon to view the holdings they could be offered there on terms that would be explained to them on the ground. He further told them that if five or six of them migrated they would get adjacent holdings. He offered to pay their expenses or hire a brake in which a number of them could journey together, but none of them would go even to see the Roscommon lands. Under these circumstances the striping of the lands was proceeded with and the holdings sold, although nearly all were uneconomic.

Migration to
grass lands.

The general system of dealing with migration came under the Board's careful attention in connection with an important Report from Mr. Doran, which we reproduce in the Appendix. We considered it very desirable to discuss the questions so raised with the County Council of County Roscommon, and accordingly three of our members were deputed to attend a meeting of the County Council specially summoned for the purpose of the discussion.

After a full discussion of Mr. Doran's report, the following resolution was passed by the County Council:—

"That we, the County Council, having discussed with the following Committee of the Congested Districts Board, viz., THE RIGHT HON. SIR ANTHONY MACDONNELL, THE RIGHT HON. SIR HORACE PLUNKETT, REV. DENIS O'HARA, and MR. HENRY DORAN, Chief Inspector, the Report submitted by Mr. Doran to the Congested Districts Board, approve generally of the suggestions contained therein, and express our desire to co-operate in every way we can towards making the scheme of migration a success, and also to undertake the control of any agricultural schemes to be carried out by a resident agricultural instructor placed in a convenient centre for the supervision of the migrants' holdings, the expense of such instructor to be borne by the Congested Districts Board or the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland."

Since the meeting of the County Council a few landholders of considerably over £20 rateable value have opened negotiations to surrender their holdings in the congested districts for holdings in Roscommon, and it is expected that terms will be arranged with some of them. Since then, also, a number of small landholders within a distance of twelve miles from these lands have expressed their desire to migrate there.

Our belief is that after some time the disposition to migrate will become more general, and that a selection can then be made from amongst a more substantial class of landholders in or immediately adjacent to the congested districts than at present. We therefore think it is prudent not to settle with intending migrants from small holdings too hastily, especially having regard to the fact that under our system of management these small landholders have the use of these lands for the grazing of their young stock at a moderate charge, there being this half year nearly 5,000 of their young cattle grazing upon them.

In-efficiency
of funds.

In our Reports for the years 1904-5 and 1905-6 we stated that further funds were required to enable us to continue the purchase and improvement of estates on a satisfactory scale, and the appointment on 20th July, 1906, of a Royal Commission to inquire into the operations of the Acts dealing with congestion, the working of our Board and other matters connected with the relief of congestion has indirectly had the effect of partially suspending this branch of our work, as the consideration by Government of our application for increased funds was thereby postponed. Having about one million's worth of land in our hands, with very limited means for effecting the necessary improvements, we have been compelled in the past two years to restrict our purchases, buying only untenanted land and properties which were greatly in need of re-arrangement, or were situated near land available for enlarging small holdings. The purchases we have agreed upon in each of the three past financial years show the great decrease which has taken place, for the reasons stated, the figures being :—

Estates purchased in 1904-5	...	£649,544*
" " 1905-6	...	346,706
" " 1906-7	...	108,861

Insufficiency

When forwarding our estimates for the year 1907-8 to the Irish Government for transmission to the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury we mentioned that we had drawn attention on several occasions to the inadequacy of our available funds for the improvement of estates, having regard especially to the unavoidable losses incurred in dealing with very poor estates, and the settling of migrants on new holdings on areas previously used for grazing purposes. In our letters dated 9th October, 1905, and 30th April, 1906, reprinted at pages 250-262 of the First Report of the Royal Commission on Congestion, we referred to the insufficiency of our income, and stated that after 31st March, 1907, we should be unable to make satisfactory progress with the migration branch of our work, but owing to the delay in concluding the re-sale of the estates we had purchased previous to the Act of 1903, we were not able to recover in 1906-7 that portion of our expenditure upon them which was to be recouped to us by the sale-prices of the holdings, and as this money will be repaid to us in the current year, 1907-8, we shall apply it to the financing of our estate operations up to 31st March, 1908. This being only a temporary addition to our funds we shall not be in a position to deal with a satisfactory volume of work after the present year, and a large addition to our income will be imperatively necessary if we are to make reasonable progress.

The delay in the recovery of the proceeds of re-sale of the older estates above referred to had the effect of considerably reducing the sum available in the past year for the improvement of estates, and only £76,000 could be expended out of the £108,000 estimated for the year. The receipt of the proceeds of re-sale of these estates in the current year will, however, enable us to provide £100,000 for improvements, postponing to a future year the expenditure of about £40,000 required to complete the preparation of 115 estates for sale to the tenants, and we can at present make no provision for the improvement of 22 other estates more recently purchased.

After making a careful estimate of the cost of necessary work on our estates we find that at least £30,000 in excess of the funds at our disposal up to 31st March next, would be required to cover the outlay. We therefore hope that the additional funds for which we have asked during two years past, may be obtained at an early date. In the meantime we are pressing forward as fast as our means permit the preparation of the estates which have been vested in us.

* Note.—It will be noticed that the totals given in our annual Reports do not correspond with these figures, as we generally include all purchases agreed upon up to the date of our Report, which is issued some months after the conclusion of the financial year.

Amendment
of Section 75,
Act 1903.

One of the greatest difficulties under which our migration projects are placed by the restriction contained in the 75th Section of the Land Act of 1903, was referred to in our last Report, and we have represented to the Irish Government our views as to the necessity for amending this Section at the earliest opportunity.

The list of migrants given in the Appendices of this and our two preceding Reports show that we have placed on new holdings 397 occupiers. With the exception of 73, each of these persons was transferred from a smaller holding, involving the necessity of tedious negotiations and inquiries as to title with respect to the old holdings. With regard to the 73 exceptions 40 were employed as herds, &c., on the estates when we purchased them, and the claims of these men to retain the means of earning a livelihood on the estates where they had in most cases resided many years, could not reasonably be ignored. Of the remaining 33 twenty-seven were fishermen at St. John's Point, referred to above, who had no land until we gave them holdings.

Loans for House Improvements.

Although nearly all the holdings on the Dillon estate have been sold, there are many of the smaller tenants' houses much in need of improvement, and to assist the occupiers in this work we have offered loans for sums not exceeding £25, repayable by half-yearly instalments, extending over a period of 25 years, and free grants of £5 for the erection of a new house with thatched roof, or £7 10s. if with a slated roof, to occupiers who will undertake to carry out such improvements under the supervision of our officers. These loans and grants are being very rapidly applied for.

Orders in Council.

On the 17th December, 1906, the first Order in Council was issued under Section 3 of the Congested Districts Board Act of 1901, to schedule, as congested, certain lands which we had purchased in the non-congested districts. There were 132 townlands, in connection with thirteen of our estates included in this Order, which is reprinted in Appendix No. XXVI.

Another Order has now been applied for, further lands having been vested in the Board.

Rights to Minerals.

The 13th Section of the Land Act of 1903 requires that the mineral rights, as there defined, shall be vested in the Land Commission when any land comprised in an estate is sold under the Purchase Acts. In other cases, that is where we have purchased land under previous Land Acts, or by means of cash provided out of our own funds, or in the Land Judge's Court, the mineral rights have usually passed to our Board.

Sporting Rights.

There can be no doubt that by the preservation of game considerable additions can be made to the revenue of bogs, mountains or inferior land in the West of Ireland, and we have taken every opportunity of letting the sporting rights on such lands that have been in our hands from time to time, and of urging tenant purchasers to form committees for the protection and letting of sporting rights over their holdings. We have also let the right to trap rabbits, and from these sources we received last year £471. Excluding two valuable sporting properties which produced £220, the balance was derived from about twenty small properties or portions of estates, chiefly untenanted.

Several small towns in the congested districts were included in the properties we have purchased, and we have given some assistance to the inhabitants to enable them to provide themselves with a water-supply and an improved system of sewerage.

Sewage Works for Towns.

The scheme of Live Stock Insurance to which we referred at page 16 of our last Report, was only very partially put in operation last year, for a considerable number of stock had been placed on our untenanted lands for the summer grazing before we had finally approved of the scheme. In consequence of this there was no favourable opportunity to explain the terms of insurance to a considerable number of owners, and only a comparatively small number of stock were insured, and those were mostly on farms known to be subject to such diseases as redwater and dry murrain. Under these adverse circumstances the results were considered satisfactory.

Live Stock
Insurance.

The total amount received in premiums was £32 17s. 6d., and the percentage taken from our grazing receipts was £16 8s. 10d., making an income of £49 6s. 4d., against which we had to meet claims amounting to £58 19s. 6d., leaving a deficit of £9 13s. 2d. This year we shall have data for judging the scheme, as we required the owners to insure all stock they put to graze on our lands, consisting of 4,919 cattle, 239 horses, 1,181 sheep, 13 mules.

The scale of premiums payable this year, on death from any cause, to insure two-thirds of the declared value of the animal when put to graze upon the land, is as follows:—

Grazing Rent paid for Animal.	Value of Animal at time of Insurance.	Two-thirds of Value to be paid in event of Death before 1st November.	Insurance Premium paid by Owner for 6 Months.	Insurance Premium provided by Board out of Grazing Rent.

In Appendices XXIX. and XXX. particulars are given in regard to the enlargement of holdings, and new holdings provided for migrants on our estates.

Return showing non-residential holdings.

In the Appendix No. XXXIII. will be found statistics of non-residential holdings in each of the eight counties containing Congested Districts, classified under the various forms of tenure. This Return was in the first instance obtained by the Board from the General Valuation Office records, with the kind permission of the Commissioner of Valuation, and from the local rate collectors. The Inspector-General of the Royal Irish Constabulary was then so good as to have the Return checked and completed by the police in each county. It will be observed that the total Poor-Law Valuation of the lands included in the Return is, in the Congested Districts, £25,895, and in the non-congested districts £293,579.

SEA FISHERIES.

When compared with the results of previous years the fisheries on the west and northern coasts, developed by the Board's assistance, were fairly successful in 1906, considering the bad weather which was prevalent, and showed in the aggregate increased receipts. This success was most marked, as usual, in the case of the Donegal herring fishing, where 64 of our boats caught fish to the value of £16,873, an average of £264 per boat, one boat making £648. The crews of eleven of these boats paid off their debts to us during the year.

The spring mackerel fishery was slightly better than that of 1905; the autumn mackerel fishery was not as good as in that year; but the autumn herring fishery was much better, as the following detailed statements will show:—

1.—SPRING MACKEREL FISHERY.

Aran Island.

In November, 1905, an application was received from Aran Island, asking that a supply of ice might be sent there for the Spring mackerel fishing in the event of the islanders not succeeding in making a satisfactory arrangement with a merchant.

The Board decided that under no circumstances would they assume responsibility for marketing the fish either at Spring or Autumn Fishings in 1906, or in any future year, as they felt that this would be a retrograde step after the business had for some years been placed on a commercial footing independent of the Board. Messrs. Smith and Sons, of Birmingham, with whom the Aran fishermen had contracted for several seasons for the sale of their fish, offered the same prices as those the fishermen on the mainland at Roundstone had accepted, but these terms were refused by the Aran fishermen.

The prices offered were as follows:—

1st to 10th April,	20/-	per 126 mackerel
11th to 30th April,	15/-	" " "
1st to 15th May,	8/-	" " "
16th to 31st May,	7/6	" " "
Month of June,	6/-	" " "

The merchants stated that they could not offer better terms Aran Islands. owing to the condition of the market, which was greatly affected by the large fleet of steam drifters delivering fish at Milford. Finally the Aran men having refused Messrs. Smith's terms and received no better offer from others, fished during the season with an open market, selling to any bidder.

The Board offered to provide a hulk for any persons wishing to store ice at Aran during the season of 1906, but no steps were taken to avail of this offer until it was quite too late.

The fishing began on the 11th April, 27 boats from Aran and the mainland taking part, but many of these boats, owing to the absence of an agreement with buyers, sold their fish at various ports along the coast, and their sales are consequently not included in the returns furnished from Aran.

The fishing opened well, but the weather became unfavourable, and a number of the boats ceased fishing after a short time, only a few continuing after the 23rd June. The fishing finally closed on the 4th July.

All the Carna boats fishing at Aran were under agreement with buyers at Kilronan on the terms refused by the Aran fishermen.

There were 6,141 boxes of mackerel sold fresh at Aran, and 42 barrels cured.

The earnings of the boats, not including sales at mainland ports, were about £1,200, and about £120 was paid to the islanders for curing and marketing.

The Board made the same arrangements for supplying ice to the buyers at Cleggan as in previous years. They purchased Cleggan. 400 tons of ice in Norway at 10s. 6d. per ton, and sold it at 2s. a basket weighing about 6 stone 4 lbs. The wastage both on board the bulk and in crushing was, as usual, very great, being over 66 per cent, and a loss of nearly £32 fell on the Board.

Fishing began about the 11th April and continued till the end of July, during which period the quantity of fresh mackerel sold was 11,540 boxes and 1,390 barrels of mackerel were cured. The amount paid by buyers for the fish was £3,062—24 large boats and 20 small were engaged in the fishing, and the crews numbered 215. A further sum of about £500 was paid for curing, marketing and carting fish to rail head.

Fishing on the whole was good, and the fish being near the shore the small boats did well all through the season. Early in the season some Scotch herring boats came to Cleggan to look for herrings, but on hearing of the good takes in County Donegal and the high prices ruling there they went north and did not fish from Cleggan.

About the 25th May a Norwegian 60-ton boat arrived and cured fish on board of their boat. She left about the 23rd June, and a little later another Norwegian arrived and cured in the same manner.

The mackerel were of excellent quality and were sold at prices varying from 30s. per 126 fish at the beginning of the season to Cleggan. 5s. in June and July. The prices, however, seldom dropped below 6s. to 7s., the average being as follows:—

April, £1	0	4	per 126 fish.
May,	0	7	10 „ „
June,	0	6	2½ „ „
July,	0	6	10 „ „

Clifden, Bunowen, and Doonloughan. No Spring mackerel fishing was carried on at Clifden and the Slyne Head stations during last season, the local boats fishing at other centres.

Roundstone. Fishing at Roundstone began about 24th April and closed on 24th July, and was satisfactory in spite of bad weather in April and May, which greatly interfered with the fishing during those months, and a return of unsettled weather at the end of the season. Twenty-four large boats fished from Roundstone, including five boats which did not remain there the whole season but sometimes went to Aran Island and other neighbouring stations. Nearly 7,700 boxes of fresh mackerel were sold, and nearly 1,000 barrels were cured.

The earnings of the fishermen amounted to £2,170, and those of the local people engaged in curing, &c., another £400. During part of June nearly all the boats got herring as well as mackerel in the mackerel nets. They were large and of as good a quality as the Downings Bay herrings. Twenty barrels of these were cured and sent to German markets. At Roundstone the men sold their fish under contract with Messrs. Ruane and Sons. The prices as already mentioned were the same as those offered to the Aran fishermen, and refused by them.

2.—AUTUMN MACKEREL FISHING.

Cleggan. Fishing began at Cleggan on 1st July and finished on 31st December. The season was bad owing to unsettled weather, and little was done before November. All the fish (about 700 barrels) were cured. There were nine buyers, and the takings of the 10 large and 20 small boats engaged in the fishing were about £670, in addition to about £100 earned in curing and marketing.

Innisbofin, Co. Galway. During the autumn season proper—i.e., up to nearly the end of November—no fish were caught at Innisbofin, but from then till the 22nd February, 34 small boats fished and sold 80 boxes of mackerel fresh and 540 barrels of cured mackerel, earning about £500, or an average of about £3 per man. The failure in the autumn fishing was due to the fish remaining at such a depth that the nets did not reach them.

Clifden, Bunowen, Doonloughan. The fishing on the coast between Clifden and Doonloughan began about the 20th June, and continued till the 8th December; but very few fish were caught after the end of July, and at Clifden few boats fished after the end of August. Only about 600 barrels of mackerel were cured; 40 small boats fished, and the earnings amounted to about £400.

Fishing at Tully and Derryinver was much interfered with by bad weather, and a large number of nets were lost by the fishermen. About 2,000 boxes of mackerel were sold fresh, and 40 barrels were cured, the fishermen receiving over £900. There were also some herrings taken in the mackerel nets, about 200 boxes being marketed fresh and 60 barrels cured. The fishermen's earnings were over £1,000, and about £240 was paid to workers on shore. Ninety small boats fished.

Tully and Derryinver.

There was practically no mackerel fishing at Kilronan; only a few of the boats fished for a few nights with their herring nets, and the result only amounted to 15 barrels.

Aran Island.

At Kilmurvey 29 small boats and canoes fished from the middle of September till the 26th January. Up to the 5th November there was very light fishing, but from that time there was very good fishing until the 5th December, when a heavy storm did much damage to the nets anchored at night. Thirty boxes of fresh fish and 552 barrels of cured mackerel were sold for £751, and about £160 was earned on shore by the local people.

3.—SUMMER HERRING FISHING.

During the month of May the weather was rough and unsettled. The fishing opened at Downings with the arrival of 50 or 60 Scotch boats on 1st and 2nd May, but little was done till the 4th, when about 200 crans were landed and sold at from 60s. to 67s. per cran.

Downing's Bay.

The Board's boats began fishing on the 6th May, and although the fishing was light at first the prices were high, and rose on the 15th May to 70s. per cran, on the 18th to 75s., and on the 5th June to 100s. a cran.

The fishing became very light after the 9th June, and ceased altogether on the 16th. The total takings of the Board's boats amounted to £4,283, and the average earnings were about £90 for each boat.

The number of boats fishing at Downing's Bay at the height of the season was 251, including 51 steam drifters, 147 Scotch sailing boats, and 53 Irish boats.

The number of barrels cured was 10,262, and these realised £24,000. The number of fishermen engaged was about 1,800, of whom 320 were local men. In addition, 170 local persons were engaged in curing, carting, &c., and their earnings are estimated at about £1,500.

The herrings were as hitherto of a very superior quality, and some German and Russian firms were represented at Downing's Bay, where they bought from the curers, of whom there were 13 besides local buyers.

The prices obtained for Downing's Bay summer herrings at St. Petersburg were very remarkable, being nearly double the price of Castlebays, and at Stettin they were 50 per cent. higher than the Castlebays, the best Scottish herrings.

Teelin. Twelve of the Board's boats fished at Teelin during this season as well as two other large and two small boats. The takes were very light until the first week in June, when they improved, and the prices being fairly good, the earnings were satisfactory, the Board's boats making nearly £600. The herrings were of fine quality and prices ranged from 45s. to 67s. per cran. The fish were all cured and sent to German markets. The quantity was under 400 barrels. This was practically the first Summer herring fishing at Teelin, and it is to be hoped that it will be well followed up in the future.

The fishing here closed at the end of June, many of the crews having already given up and gone to the salmon fishing.

The prices obtained in the German and Russian markets for Teelin herrings were very high, running to about 5s. per barrel under Downing's Bay herrings, and far ahead of any other Summer herrings in those markets.

Tory Island. The Summer fishing at Tory Island was a failure, practically no fish being got from the island.

Burton Port. Only three large and five small boats fished in the Summer at Burton Port, and the number of half barrels cured there was 250 sold for £300. The Summer fishing has not been worked from Burton Port owing to the lack of large boats suitable for the work, but a good many of these are now being obtained, and better results may be expected there in future years.

4.—AUTUMN HERRING FISHING.

Downing's Bay. The fishing began on the 11th September, but was very light until the 20th, when it improved and continued so good that on 10th October the earnings of the Board's boats amounted to £2,220. Heavy weather subsequently interrupted the fishing very seriously, but good takes were again made in November. Ninety large and sixteen small boats fished, and the earnings of fishermen this Autumn amounted to £19,323, besides over £1,800 earned by local persons in connection with carting, curing, &c.

Wreck of 12 boats. On the 5th December, during a heavy north-west gale, twelve of the fishing boats at Downings Bay were driven from their moorings and all became total wrecks. Fortunately there was no loss of life as all the crews were ashore at the time. Two of the boats went on Trabeg strand and were completely buried in the sand near high water mark; the remainder went ashore on the rocky cliffs of Muslack, near Rosapenna Hotel, and went to pieces. The value of the boats lost was about £1,400, gear to the value of under £100 being saved. At the time of their loss the cost of two of the twelve boats had just been repaid to the Board out of earnings. Arrangements were at once made to supply new boats in place of those lost.

The following Table shows to what extent the losses have been made good by the Insurance Fund.

The statement shows that the crews of the first ten boats lost £1,804 7s. 6d., less £729 recovered by the insurance, and they had to their credit when new boats were provided for them by the Board £375 10s., the value of the gear in store.

The accounts of the two boats which had become the property of their crews show that the total loss was £325 3s., and that the credit towards cost of new boats was as follows:—

During the gale on December 5th six of the boats at Kincasslagh also went ashore, but they were all got off and repaired except one, which was not considered to be worth repairing.

Three boats from Mayo and Galway came north for the Autumn fishing, having been provided with instructors free of charge, to act as pilots. Not one of the three was successful, and two of them had to be laid up by the Board at Downing's Bay for the winter, after which they were sent back to the West for the Spring mackerel fishing there.

Kincasslagh.

Twenty-two large and sixty small boats commenced fishing in first week in November, and did not cease till the 18th January, 1907, but during the last six weeks there were practically no fish caught; 70 boxes of fresh and 3,077 barrels of cured herrings were sold, realizing about £4,000. There being a large number of buyers the prices remained high throughout.

Kincasslagh, owing to its improved harbour accommodation, should become a very important fishing centre.

Burton Port.

The fishing began at Burtonport about the 13th November and closed on 12th January, but broken weather prevented fishing during a great part of the time. The takings of the fishermen were about £7,000, or about an average of £7 per man, and an additional £1,000 was earned by local curers, carters, &c.

Magheroarty
and Falcarragh

The fishing at Magheroarty and Falcarragh was carried on by 55 small boats from the 25th September to 23rd December. The season would probably have been a record one but for the stormy weather and the consequent difficulty in landing fish at Magheroarty, which is much exposed. On more than one occasion the Inishbofin boats, when deeply laden, failed to land their fish at Magheroarty, thus incurring a severe loss.

At these stations 1,647 boxes of herrings were sold fresh, and 2,672 barrels were cured. Prices varied from 24s. per cran in September to 32s. in December. A great deal of local employment is given by this fishery, but it is difficult to estimate the earnings made by carters, &c.

Magheragallon and Bunbeg.

The fishing at Magheragallon and Bunbeg began on the 5th November and finished on the 18th January, but was constantly interrupted by bad weather, so that there was only fishing on 27 days during that period. At the two places the fishermen earned just under £1,000, there being at the fishing four large and 97 small boats. At Magheragallon nearly all the fish are cured, but at Bunbeg almost all are sold for local consumption. About 37 boxes of fresh and 40 barrels of cured herrings were sent away.

Like the other stations, Rosbeg and Loughros suffered from the constant bad weather during the Autumn season between November 6th and 20th January. At Rosbeg 150 small boats fished, and the earnings are estimated at £8,936. Most of the boats fishing at Rosbeg come from other parts of the coast, there being only about 40 local boats. The local people engaged in carting, boxing and marketing the fish are believed to have earned over £500.

The Loughros fishing was poor, and the fishermen only realized £85 amongst the 20 small boats belonging to the place.

For the past two seasons the Autumn herring fishing at Killybegs has been of growing importance. The herrings that have been got at the head of Donegal Bay are of fine quality, and both cured and fresh did well in the market. About 2,000 boxes of fresh and 3,000 barrels of cured herrings were sold, bringing in about £3,000 to the fishermen; 49 large and 60 small boats fished.

As at other places, the fishing at Darby's Point suffered considerably from the severe and stormy weather; eight large boats and 60 small ones took part in the fishing which lasted with many interruptions from the 15th August to the 15th November.

This is a mixed fishing of herrings, mackerel and white fish, many of the small boats following line-fishing exclusively. No curing was carried on at Darby's Point, all the fish being sold fresh, principally to local buyers.

The quantities sold were approximately 500 boxes of herrings, 550 white fish and a small number of mackerel. The number of fishermen engaged was about 340, and about 40 other persons were employed. The fishermen earned £472 and the others about £140.

Fishing began at Clare Island about the 20th September and closed on 19th October. It was confined entirely to small boats, of which nine took part, and was very unsuccessful, as the fish did not approach the island, and most of the catches obtained by Clare Island boats were taken off the mainland at long distances from home. Good takes in small boats under such circumstances often result in nets having to be cut away to avoid overloading the boats. The fish were beginning to spawn before their presence was discovered, as they seem to have changed their usual course of migration between the island and the mainland. Had they been discovered sooner, and had fine weather continued, the fishing would probably have been the best for some years. As it was, only 117 barrels were sold, fetching £85.

Kilronan,
Aran.

During the Autumn herring fishing, from August 1st to November 1st, all the Galway Bay boats, including those from Galway, Aran and Roundstone, as well as Carna, fished from Aran and Galway.

The fishing was light throughout, and the weather unfavourable. The quantity sold was 1,068 boxes of fresh and 171 barrels of cured herrings, and the money value was £553; 24 large boats fished.

5. LONG LINE AND WINTER HERRING FISHING.

Teelin.

There was practically no long line fishing at Teelin owing to bad weather. Several crews fished for herrings and had some success in January, but later on the fishing proved a failure and ceased early in April.

North Mayo stations.

The fishing at Porturlin, Portacloy, Belderrig, Muingereena, and Kiaroe did not show any improvement on last year's poor results. Stormy weather and scarcity of fish were the main causes.

Aran Island,
Co. Galway.

The Innishere fishermen contracted with a buyer on the same terms as the previous year. Only three of the Board's yawls fished, one with her old crew under agreement, the other two being scratch crews from other boats. Most of the fishing in South Aran was done in canoes, as the men complained of the difficulty of hauling the yawls up the beach, and there is great risk in leaving them at anchor owing to sudden storms in Galway Bay. The fishing began in the first week in January and lasted till the 17th of April. It is a mixed fishing—herrings, mackerel, cod, haddock, skate, ling, conger, halibut, bream, &c., being caught.

The past year has been better than any of the previous twenty years for bream, both at Innishere and the other Islands of Aran. Hardly any cash sales were, however, made, there being a system of barter between the islanders and the Connemara men, who exchange turf for the fish. Twenty-two boats and canoes fished and the take of all kinds, not including bream, totalled to 744 boxes fresh, and 88 barrels cured, the earnings of the fishermen amounting to about £400. The season was a good one in spite of bad weather in the early part of the season; prices were good, especially for cod and ling, and there was no lack of buyers.

SOUTH CONNEMARA FISHERIES.

South
Connemara.

Every year since our fishery work began, in 1892, we have made it a special object to endeavour to establish a successful fishery on the coast of South Connemara, and to train as many as possible of the young men, but we regret to say that our efforts have almost completely failed.

This result must be attributed to several causes—partly to the unsatisfactory returns obtainable from the fisheries, during the last three or four years, partly to the unwillingness of the people to take to fishing as a regular calling, and partly to the fact that they are during a considerable portion of the year engaged in an intermittent but fairly remunerative traffic in the carriage of turf to Galway, the Aran Islands, and other places along the shores of Galway Bay by sailing "hookers."

South
fisheries.

Our recent experiences will illustrate the difficulties we refer to. In the spring of 1907 we set aside six boats to be worked by crews from Connemara and the islands off the Galway coast on the share system. An agent was sent before the beginning of the fishing to South Connemara to endeavour to get crews for some of these boats. He made every effort to get crews, but only succeeded in collecting names for one crew, composed of men who had fished one of the Board's boats as a temporary crew the previous year. This crew signed an agreement on the County Donegal "share boat" system, but when they were sent for to fit out their boat they said they could not come for another month, and finally declined to go at all. As no other crews could be got from South Connemara two of the boats were given to North Connemara crews and three to crews from Inishboffin, the remaining boat being laid up in May, having been kept till then in the hope that the crew who had signed the agreement might join her, or that another suitable crew might be engaged. A communication was subsequently received from the South Connemara district on behalf of the proposed crews stating that they would not join unless allowed to do so temporarily, and unless they were given six shillings a week for "grub-money" (whether fish were caught or no) and a share of the earnings in addition. These terms had been given in the previous year, but were found to be not sufficiently stimulating. We were also informed that the "relief works" then being carried on had much to do with the difficulty of getting crews.

We have appointed a Chief Fishery Instructor for the district including South Connemara, fixing his headquarters at Clifden.

BOAT BUILDING.

Eight of the nine boats ordered in 1905 were delivered in time for the summer fishery at Downing's Bay. The ninth boat, which was built at the Aran Islands, was not ready in time, and was held over and subsequently laid up at Kilronan. All the new boats were 36 feet on the keel and from 49 to 50 feet over all, were thoroughly satisfactory, and fit for the summer fishery.

Boat building.

The disaster at Downings Bay in December necessitated the supply of a large number of new boats for 1907 summer herring fishing, and orders for seven Zulu boats were placed with Irish firms, four with the Industrial School, Killybegs, two with Messrs. Tyrrell and Sons, Arklow, and one with the Wexford Shipbuilding Company.

Boat building. One second-hand boat was purchased in Scotland, and seven new boats were ordered from Scotch builders, as they could not be completed in time by the Irish yards.

Eleven boats were thus provided. One had been held over from last year, and four Nobbies, which the Board had taken up from borrowers were also available, making in all 16 boats for the crews of the 12 wrecked boats and for new crews engaged for the Donegal herring fishery.

The arrangements under which a building and repairing yard was maintained at Kilronan came to an end owing to one of the three shipwrights going to America, and we now propose to let the yard and appliances to one of the others at a nominal rent, so that a repairing yard may be re-opened, but the cost of timber delivered at the island has been found to be so high that boats cannot be built at any reasonable cost. In Appendix No. XXI. will be found particulars of the boats built for or purchased by the Board, in continuation of the Return called for last year by Sir Thomas Esmonde, and reprinted at page 78 of our Fifteenth Annual Report.

INSTRUCTION IN FISHING.

Instruction in fishing.

During the past year the terms under which instruction was given to fishermen remained unaltered. In Donegal during the Summer herring fishing thirty-two Instructors were employed for periods varying from ten to five weeks.

During the Autumn herring fishing in County Donegal thirty-five Instructors were engaged during an average of about eleven weeks.

In Galway and Mayo nineteen Instructors were employed for the Spring mackerel fishing for periods ranging from ten to sixteen weeks, all except two being sent to boats supplied to purchasers on the loan system, and in the same counties ten Instructors were employed in the Autumn herring fishing for periods varying from four to fourteen weeks.

One Instructor only was employed for the long-line fishing in South Aran Island for a period of ten weeks.

The total cost of instruction in the year was £3,090, of which £1,144 was repaid out of the boats' earnings, under the conditions laid down.

BARREL-MAKING MATERIALS.

Barrel-making.

During the past year the Granuaile brought three cargoes of staves, headings, iron and wooden hoops from Fraserburgh and Peterhead to Ireland. Two of the cargoes were sold to the coopers in Cork and Kerry, partly on loan and partly for cash, the other cargo being for the Board's cooperages at Downing's Bay and Burton Port.

The cargoes were brought over in May, 1906, December, 1906, Barrel-making, and March, 1907, and the total quantities were :—

Whole barrel staves,	396,085 superficial feet.
" " headings,	99,798 " "
Half " staves,	80,000 " "
" " headings,	20,000 " "
Iron hoops,	49 tons.
Wooden hoops,	150 bundles.

Of these quantities 80,000 feet whole barrel staves and 25,000 feet whole barrel headings, all the half-barrel materials, and four tons of iron hoops were divided between the Board's cooperages, the rest being sold to coopers working on their own account. The whole represents materials for about 11,400 "whole barrels" and 7,300 "half-barrels."

III.—INDUSTRIES.

LACE AND CROCHET.

The demand for crochet, as for other fine laces produced at the Board's classes has been well maintained during the year 1906-7, and the turnover was again larger than ever previously, £23,420 having been paid to the workers through the agency of the Board's teachers, exclusive of sales which the pupils at the same classes have made direct to other purchasers. Lace Classes.

It is found that the output periodically falls off in the spring and autumn during the busy seasons of farm work. This accounts for the poor attendances at these seasons, but after making due allowance for the spring and harvest labour, the attendance at the Board's classes might, no doubt, be much better than it is.

Complaints have been made that home work, such as is provided by the Board's Industrial classes, has in some cases diminished the local school attendance, and it has also been stated that the children have been kept at home to do work which their elder sisters would do if there were no such employment. These objections might be urged against any form of employment, and we have no reason to believe that they have any substantial weight in connection with our classes. In the few cases where a specific complaint has been received efforts have been made to induce parents to send their children to school.

We desire again to refer to the importance to pupils in the Lace Classes of a previous training in drawing, which should be given in the primary schools.

We have entered into agreements with the Irish Industrial Development Association for the use of the Irish Trade Mark for genuine Irish Lace made at our classes, and it is hoped that the use of this distinctive trade mark may be of advantage to both producers and purchasers by preventing the sale of machine-made imitations as hand-made goods.

HOMESPUNS.

Homespun.

The Board, with a view to discouraging the production of webs partly made from machine-spun yarns, have resumed the practice of stamping webs of superior quality, and are at the same time offering prizes at the Ardara and Carrick markets for specially well made pieces of genuine homespun. The number of pieces measured at the Ardara and Carrick Depots during the year was 2,825, and both the demand and price have been fairly well maintained.

During the past year instruction in weaving has been given at Ardara and Kerrykeel, County Donegal; Leenane, County Galway; and Glengarriffe, County Cork.

DOMESTIC TRAINING CLASSES.

Domestic Economy.

Courses of four months' training in Domestic Economy have been given at the following centres—namely, Lettermacaward, Mountcharles, Doochary, Carrick, Glencolumbkille, Clonmany, and Malinbeg, Co. Donegal; Roundstone, Kilkerrin, and Leenane, Co. Galway; Glenfarne, Co. Leitrim; Ardgroon, Ballydehob, Bere Island, Schull, Laurence's Cove, and Drimoleague, Co. Cork; and at Ballyheigue, Co. Kerry.

In addition to this two six-months' courses of training at Killarney School of Domestic Economy have been paid for by the Board for pupils from congested districts.

The pupils who attend the classes for the full four months' course can very easily find situations in this country as domestic servants, if they wish to leave their own homes, and it is a mistake to suppose that the greater proportion of these pupils go to America after the course of training.

CARPENTRY CLASSES.

Carpentry.

Carpentry Classes have been held at Aughamore and Ballycrov, County Mayo; Rossinver, County Leitrim; Schull and Ratravane, County Cork; Kindrum and Carrigart, County Donegal; Glencar, County Kerry; and at Cashel, County Galway.

Many testimonials as to the value of these classes have been received from the localities in which they have been held.

MACHINE KNITTING.

Knitting

Classes for instruction in machine knitting by teachers supplied by the Board have been held at Bunbeg, Glenties, Ballycrick, Lettermacaward, Ardara, Dunfanaghy, Meenabanad, Pollaid, Midletown, and Straleel, County Donegal.

In each of the above districts a local manufacturer has undertaken to supply work and to pay wages, and the Board have supplied the workers with machines at wholesale price on easy terms of repayment, the usual security being given for the repayment of the loan.

LIST OF LACE AND CROCHET CLASSES.

Lace and Crochet Classes during the year 1906-1907 have been in operation at the following places:—Ardara, Bruckless, Creeve, Massinass, Dungloe, Fintown, Carrigart, County Donegal; Benada, Cliffosey, Magherow, County Sligo; Killarga, County Leitrim; Ardaree, Kiltimagh, Bangor, Attymass, Carratigue, Corlongh, Derreendafderg, Derrypark, Doohoma, Foxpoint, Glenamoy, Pullathomas, Belmullet, Ballycroy, Porturlin, Tourmakeady, and Strab, County Mayo; Oughterard, Rossmuck, Costelloe, Carna, Spiddal, Roscahill, Clonbur, Killeany, Leenane, Roundstone, County Galway; Glengarriffe, Kilcrohane, Durrus, and Castletownbere, County Cork; Shanacuan, County Kerry. The following new classes have been opened during the year:—

Lace-curtain Classes.

IRISH INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.

An exhibit of lace, embroidery, carpets and curtains, and also of homespun, being made by a hand carder and weaver, may be seen at the Irish International Exhibition. These exhibits are typical examples of goods now being produced in congested areas. They are supplied from only a very few of the numerous centres in which such industries, introduced or assisted by the Board, are now carried on. A grant of £250 in aid of the Industrial Section of this Exhibition was made from our funds.

Exhibitions

LIMERICK EXHIBITION.

A contribution of £150 was made in the past year towards the expenses of the Munster and Connacht Industrial Exhibition held at Limerick, and specimens of lace, homespun, and carpets produced in the Congested Districts formed a special exhibit and resulted in many orders being received for these goods.

IV.—ENGINEERING WORKS AND PARISH COMMITTEES.

The net expenditure on Works during the past year amounted to £7,102, divided as follows:—

Marine Works, Piers, Slips, &c., . . . . .	5,515
Roads, Bridges, Drainage Works, &c., carried out by the Board, . . . . .	250
Roads, Bridges, &c., carried out by County Authorities, aided by contributions from the Board amounting to . . . . .	1,337
Total, . . . . .	7,102

The details of the above expenditure will be found in Appendix No. XXII.

Dredging of Dingle
Harbour.

Our contribution of £400 towards the cost of dredging the approaches to Dingle Pier was subsequently increased to £500, the entire outlay being about £1,100, but we are informed that much further expenditure must be incurred before the work can be regarded as satisfactorily completed.

Adrigole and Glengarriff Piers.

When we agreed to give a subsidy for an improved steamer service in Bantry Bay we stipulated that calls would be made at Adrigole and Glengarriff as soon as the contemplated piers were constructed at those places, near each of which there is a very large agricultural population. The Department of Agriculture co-operated with us by providing £1,000 for Adrigole and the County Council gave £300 for the construction of the approach road. The pier at Adrigole has been completed at a cost of £2,300.

At Glengarriff some delay has been caused by the negotiations for a lease of the site, which has now been obtained from the Board of Trade. The approach road will be constructed by the Cork, Brandon and South Coast Railway Company.

Drainage Projects.

In the year 1893 we took the opinion of Counsel as to the legal liabilities we might incur by carrying out, or contributing to the cost of, the improvement of drainage on rivers and water-courses, and we were advised that these liabilities were of so serious a nature that except on our own estates we have carried out no drainage operations, and have found it possible to assist in only a few works where we were fully indemnified against risk. We have, however, received a very large number of applications for assistance in drainage works, and we are aware that in many of these cases large areas of productive land are greatly reduced in value by flooding. Tenants and the purchasers of small holdings under the Land Acts are the chief sufferers, and are in the present state of the law in a perfectly helpless position; for until the main arterial systems have been systematically and thoroughly taken in hand it is obvious that the smaller drains and water-courses affecting the holdings of these occupiers cannot, as a general rule, be touched, and all operations must be postponed until the amendments of the law which, it is hoped, will follow from the report recently made by the Viceregal Commission have been obtained. Drainage Projects.

We offered to pay £2,333, two-thirds of the estimated cost of improving the drainage of the River Robe, County Mayo, but, so far, the District Council have not seen their way to having the work carried out, and the damage done annually to extensive blocks of land along the course of this river must continue.

We also made an offer of a grant of £700 and a loan of a similar amount to enable the local authorities to clear the entrance to Burtonport by dredging a passage through the sand which now prevents vessels approaching the town except at high water. The County Council find that under the existing law they have no power to accept our offer of a loan, and the proposed improvements, which are greatly needed, have been postponed. Burtonport Harbour.

An offer of £250 in aid of dredging operations at Castletown Bere has also failed to lead to the work being undertaken by the Harbour Commissioners.

During the past year we have voted £6,271 as contributions to various marine and inland works, on condition that they were carried out by the local authorities, but we have paid only £1,561 under this head.

PARISH COMMITTEES.

The Parish Committee Scheme, for the encouragement of small landholders in improving their dwellings and farms, was commenced in 1897 by grants, amounting in all to £1,520, to twelve parishes in the most densely populated portion of the Congested Districts, viz., East Mayo. The objects of the scheme were so well attained that we have gradually extended its operations to ninety-nine parishes in Connaught, thirty-four in County Donegal, and twenty-seven in Cork and Kerry, as shown by the list of parishes in Appendix No. XXIV. The amounts voted in the past year were £6,990 for Connaught, £1,919 for Donegal, and £1,925 for Cork and Kerry. Parish Committees.

Under the conditions of the scheme the value of the work done by the landholders to whom the small grants, generally from £1 to £3, are made, is greatly in excess of the payments made by us. Excluding County Donegal, the works done last year were valued at £31,812, while our grants approved were only £7,294. The nature of the works carried out was as follows:—

- (a) Erection of new dwelling-houses, or the improvement of existing dwellings. 190 new dwelling-houses were erected, the estimated cost being £4,372 in respect of which grants to the extent of £389 were made. Improvements were made in 1,465 existing dwelling-houses at an estimated cost of £9,647, towards which grants to the extent of £2,440 were made.

- (b.) In 1,193 cases the erection of new out-offices was undertaken, the estimated value of the works being £12,316, and the grants sanctioned were £2,777; whilst in 395 cases improvements were made in existing buildings at an estimated cost of £2,950, for which grants amounting to £745 were sanctioned. It is the primary duty of the Parish Committees to cause the cattle to be removed from the dwellings of the people, and although considerable progress has been made in this direction, much remains to be done.
- (c.) Drainage and Fencing.—153 works, estimated to cost £1,018, in respect of which grants amounting to £181 were sanctioned.
- (d.) 141 works, comprising the making of new and the repair of existing roads, were approved, the grants in the aggregate amounting to £215, and work to the estimated value of £1,319, was undertaken.
- (e.) Reclamation of waste land and other unclassified works, to the number of 21, were undertaken, the grants amounting to £47, and the value of the work to £190.

The additional parishes included in the scheme last year were in the counties of Cork (1), Kerry (2), Sligo (3), and the manner in which the business was conducted in the new parishes is encouraging, for it leads us to believe that the scheme will be carried out in a thorough manner when it is fully understood. In three of the 114 parishes in Connaught and Munster no committees were formed in time to carry out works last year.

In regard to County Donegal the figures for each class of work are as shown in Tabular Statement beneath:—

Nature of Works.	Number.	Estimated Cost.			Grants sanctioned or Prizes Awarded.
		£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.

Total, . . . . .	1,854	15 322	1	2	1,845	10	4

Very satisfactory work has been done in most of the parishes under the Donegal Scheme. The value of the work in several of the parishes represents from eight to twelve times the amount of the grant.

V.—MISCELLANEOUS

During the past year 65 Raiffeisen banks were carrying on business in the Congested Districts while 22 others which had been organised had not commenced operations or had suspended them, and 10, after commencing work, had for various reasons been closed. Raiffeisen Banks.

The statistics given in Appendix No. XXIII. show that the total amount lent by us to 73 banks was £6,705, and the amount borrowed by them from other sources was £3,010. Since 11th February, 1904, we have not increased the fund of £6,000 then set apart for loans to these banks.

The growth of the business done is to be measured not only by the increase of the loans issued from £12,802 in the preceding year to £17,207, but by the amount of the reserve funds accumulated by 58 banks, which now possess between them a reserve capital of £799.

The formation of a reserve fund is an object which justified the charge of a higher rate of interest on the loans than would otherwise be necessary, and as such a charge is a tax imposed upon themselves by the members of the banks, no objection can be made on the ground of equity.

From reports received from several centres on the Galway, Mayo and Donegal coasts we learn that the prices given for burnt kelp last year fell from about £4 10s. at the beginning of the season to £3, and even £2 10s. at the close; a decline which means a very serious loss of income to many poor families. In South Connemara the average quantity sold by one family was about two-and-a-half tons, nearly all the weed being burnt and only a small portion being sold dried. At Clare Island the price averaged £3 10s., and as about 500 tons of kelp were sold a substantial sum was earned by the islanders. At Achill Island there is practically no kelp sold, owing to the people being absent as migratory labourers during the kelp season. Kelp burning.

In the Appendix will be found the list of grants made in aid of local Agricultural Shows during the past year; the grants being in all cases made for prizes to persons residing in congested districts, and whose gross Poor Law Valuation does not exceed £15. Local Agricultural Shows.

Subsidies to Steamer
Services.

The only subsidies we are now paying in aid of steamer service are £700 a year for the Aran Island Service and £500 for an improved service in Bantry Bay.

Lady Dudley's
Nursing Fund.

In pursuance of the arrangement with the Committee of Lady Dudley's Nursing Fund, under which the Committee pay interest on the outlay, we have agreed to build two more cottages for nurses, at Spiddal, County Galway, and at West Cove, County Kerry, where no suitable accommodation could be obtained. We have also agreed to pay £12 a year towards the cost of providing a qualified nurse on Tory Island, County Donegal, which we purchased in October, 1903, and on which there is a population of 335 persons, separated by eight miles of sea from the nearest doctor, and living for the most part in very crowded and unhealthy cabins and suffering from a deficient supply of fuel.

Telegraphs.

During the past year we agreed to undertake portions of the guarantee required by the Postmaster-General for the extension of the telegraph system to Inisboffin Island, Maam and Carraroe in County Galway, Meenlaragh and Gortahork, in County Donegal, Pulathomas and Bunnacurry, in County Mayo; and Tourlestrane in County Sligo, the total for which we become liable in these cases being £98 per annum, in addition to £690 per annum for a large number of extensions previously guaranteed.

SS. Granuaile.

Our steamer the ss. Granuaile, besides the ordinary work of conveying materials for engineering and estates works, was employed ten days by the Department of Agriculture in the protection of fisheries, and brought three cargoes of barrel-making materials from the east coast of Scotland; she also carried a cargo of seed-potatoes for the Local Government Board from Belfast to places in County Galway.

Assistance from Police and Coast Guards.

We have been, as in many previous years, under great obligations to the Inspector-General of the Royal Irish Constabulary and to the officers and members of the Force, and also to the officers and men of the Coast Guard Service, for very valuable assistance given in connection with fishery and other operations.

Annual Accounts.

The accounts of receipts and payments in the year ending 31st March last, as furnished to the Comptroller and Auditor-General, with full details under each head, and statements of the loans issued, are submitted in the Appendix of this Report.

Death of Mr.
A. T. Duthie.

A few days before presenting this Report we heard, with very great regret, of the death of Mr. Alexander T. Duthie, who had been, since October, 1893, the chief officer in charge of our fishery operations. The very valuable herring fishery established by our Board on the Northern coast of Donegal, in particular, owed much of its success to Mr. Duthie's constant supervision, to his complete knowledge of the Scottish herring fisheries, and of the requirements of foreign markets. Mr. Duthie's tact and kindness in dealing with the fishermen also contributed to this success, and his death will be felt as a great loss, not only by us, but by a large number of people connected with the fisheries in the Congested Districts.

We have the honour to be

Your Excellency's faithful servants,

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1906.

No. 932.

LANDLORD AND TENANT, IRELAND.

Congested Districts.

THE CONGESTED DISTRICTS BOARD (IRELAND) (OUTSIDE LANDS) ORDER, 1906. DATED DECEMBER 17, 1906.

By the Lord Lieutenant and Privy Council in Ireland.

Aberdeen.

Whereas by Section 3 of the Congested Districts Board (Ireland) Act, 1901 (hereinafter called the Act of 1901), it is enacted that where the Congested Districts Board (hereinafter called the Board) have, whether before or after the passing of the Act of 1901, purchased land elsewhere than in a Congested Districts County, We may if We think fit, on the report of the Board, by Order in Council declare that, for the purposes of the section in recital, the land shall be treated as part of such Congested Districts County as We may determine, and the Board shall thereupon have with respect to that land all the powers conferred on them by the Congested Districts Board (Ireland) Acts as amended by the Act of 1901. And whereas the Board, after the passing of the Act of 1901, purchased the lands the particulars of which are set out in the Schedule to this Order, which lands are not situate in any Congested Districts County. And whereas the Board by letter dated the 3rd day of December, 1906, under the hand of Frank W. D. Mitchell, their Secretary, reported that they had purchased the said lands, and requested that We might be pleased to declare by Order in Council that under the provisions of Section 3 of the Act of 1901 the said lands should be scheduled as congested districts and treated as part of the Congested Districts Counties for the benefit of which they were purchased. And whereas the names of the respective Congested Districts Counties for the benefit of which such lands were respectively purchased are set opposite the names of such lands respectively in the Schedule to this Order. And whereas We have determined that such lands respectively shall, for the purposes of Section 3 of the Act of 1901, be treated as part of the respective Congested Districts Counties the names of which are in the same Schedule set opposite the names of such lands respectively. And We think fit to make the following Order:—

Now, We, the Lord Lieutenant-General and General Governor of Ireland, by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council in Ireland, in pursuance and exercise of the powers vested in Us by the Act of 1901, and of every other power enabling Us in this behalf, do hereby order and declare as follows, that is to say:

(1.) For the purposes of Section 3 of the Act of 1901 the lands, the particulars of which are specified in the Schedule to this Order, shall respectively be treated as part of the respective Congested Districts Counties, the respective names of which are in the said Schedule set opposite the names of the said lands respectively.

(2.) This Order may be cited as The Congested Districts Board (Ireland) (Outside Lands) Order, 1906.

CASTLEREA.

1.—COPY OF MR. HENRY DOBAN'S REPORT.

CASTLEREA,

5th March, 1907.

SECRETARY,—The Board have now in hands nearly 7,000 acres of grass land in this district. During the past three months one hundred and seventeen applications have been received for new holdings from landholders on the De Freyne, Dillon, and other estates, who are prepared to surrender their present holdings and migrate to these grass lands, situated from six to fifteen miles distant from their present homes.

Practically all the applications are from very small holders, but it may be well to point out that on many of the townlands on the De Freyne and other estates which need striping and re-arrangement, all the tenants have very small holdings, and that in cases of this kind it becomes necessary to migrate several small holders in order to substantially enlarge the holdings of those who remain.

The following is a summary of all applications received for these lands:—

- 30 tenants of holdings, the rent of which does not exceed £1.
- 23 tenants of holdings, the rent of which is over £1 and does not exceed £2, making 53 at £2 and under.
- 18 tenants of holdings, the rent of which is over £2 and does not exceed £3, making 71 at £3 and under.
- 15 tenants of holdings, the rent of which is over £3 and does not exceed £4, making 86 at £4 and under.
- 12 tenants of holdings, the rent of which is over £4 and does not exceed £5, making 98 at £5 and under.
- 9 tenants of holdings, the rent of which is over £5 and does not exceed £6, making 107 at £6 and under.
- 2 tenants of holdings, the rent of which is over £6 and does not exceed £7, making 109 at £7 and under.
- 1 tenant of holding, the rent of which is over £7 and does not exceed £8, making 110 at £8 and under.
- tenants of holdings, the rent of which is over £8 and does not exceed £10, making 110 at £10 and under.
- 7 tenants of holdings, the rent of which exceeds £10, making 117 altogether.

From the above it will be seen that the rents of the holdings of ninety-eight of the applicants do not exceed £5; twelve have rents over £5 and not exceeding £10; and only seven have holdings at rents over £10.

We striped about 3,000 acres into holdings of from £18 to £25 (estimated fair rent), excluding buildings, the area of these holdings or stripes varying from 20 to 35 acres, statute. These holdings were lockspitted, and an officer of the Board accompanied intending migrants over them and informed them of the area, purchase price, and annuity of any stripe or stripes which migrants enquired about. It was further explained to them that the value of the occupation interest of the holdings which they were prepared to surrender would be deducted from the price quoted for the new holdings, and it was also explained that it was optional for an intending migrant to apply for one holding or stripe, or for one and a half, or two stripes, according to the value of the holding surrendered. They were told too that the Board would erect boundary fences on the new holdings, and they were shown a plan of the type of dwellinghouse and out-offices which the Board would erect, or give the migrant a substantial free grant towards the erection of, if he undertook the building himself.

It is to be regretted that there are few applications from persons willing to surrender holdings of substantial value, because:—

(1.) The surrender of a substantial holding makes it possible to enlarge several adjacent small holdings.

(2.) There would be little fear of the present occupier of a holding of, say, £10 to £20 rateable value being unable to manage a new holding of double that value, and he would also be more likely to have the capital necessary to provide stock for the new holding.

(3.) A person who surrenders a substantial holding would get the new one comparatively cheap, as the occupation interest of the surrendered holding would be deducted from the cost price of the new one.

(4.) The loss to be sustained by the Board would be much greater in settling a number of migrants from small holdings than if the migrants surrendered substantial holdings and could be given new holdings of over 30 acres.

(5.) Assuming that the area of grass land likely to be available for the relief of congestion may be found insufficient, it is desirable to utilise any untenanted land acquired by the Board in a manner that will improve the condition of the largest number of uneconomic holders.

Very few of the intending migrants from small holdings will agree to take new holdings on which the annuity exceeds £16 or £17, including buildings. All the grass land now in hands is of good quality, and the general size of the new holdings we can give at a price representing an annuity of £16, including buildings, would, after allowing for the occupation interest of the small holdings to be surrendered, be about 20 acres, statute.

I would like to make the holdings larger, that is, about 25 to 30 acres, but we cannot, at present, get occupiers of large holdings to migrate. As we have up to the present more holdings marked out than we have applications for, we are practically left without any choice in the selection of migrants if all occupiers of uneconomic holdings who apply are to be provided with holdings without further delay. Therefore it is a matter for early decision whether it would not be prudent under the circumstances to proceed slowly in settling migrants and wait further in the hope that occupiers of larger holdings may express their willingness to migrate. Personally I believe that the prejudice against migration will become less in a short time, and by waiting it may be possible to select migrants to settle in the new holdings who will surrender holdings of substantial value adjacent to congested areas.

Of the applications above referred to, twenty-four applicants have expressed their desire to migrate from very congested villages to holdings selected by them, and to take up possession on the 1st November, 1907. We have finally settled with eight of these, and I have postponed getting deeds of surrender for any of the remainder pending Board's orders on the question raised in the preceding paragraph. Larger holders may agree to migrate before November, but it is also possible that they may not. As, however, the disposition to migrate appears to be gaining ground, I do not like, without the express sanction of the Board, to check it by refusing the twenty-four applicants above referred to, who may be regarded as the pioneers of migration to this district. If the Board approve of giving them holdings I propose retaining on hands some land adjacent to the smaller holdings in anticipation of the newcomers desiring to enlarge their holdings when settled upon them for a year or so.

But other considerations are suggested by the case of the very small holders, for if new holdings are given to those who are willing to migrate there is great danger, and in fact every likelihood of these men accustomed to very small holdings of poor land using the new ones practically as grazing farms if left to themselves. This would be disastrous, for as these lands are capable of little improvement by drainage or reclamation there is no outlet for the profitable application of the labour of the migrant and his family except by keeping a large portion of the farm under cultivation, and if they do not cultivate a substantial portion of it, the migrants and their families will lead indolent lives, and probably be the foundation of a very undesirable community settled on these lands. If these lands are not used in a husbandlike manner, or if only migrants from very small holdings can be secured which will but slightly relieve congestion, it would be, in my opinion, much more advantageous to the congested districts to retain these grass lands in hands for the grazing of the stock owned by the small holders in the adjacent congested districts until the migration spirit shall have further developed, or until the Board can form a reliable forecast as to its probable development, and this they are likely to be in a position to do in the course of a few years.

From the beginning of the Board's estate works I have been constantly urging the necessity of having the new and enlarged holdings placed under the supervision of agricultural instructors when the re-arrangement of the estates had been completed. The Board's work of striping and re-arrangement, drainage and road-making are only the initial steps towards agricultural development, and comparatively little good will result if when the lands are laid out in a more convenient manner; and facilities given for the drainage and management of them, they are not worked in a husbandlike manner. It will be regrettable if the Board are to continue a large expenditure of public money in settling migrants on untenanted lands and re-arranging holdings on poor estates in the absence of well-considered schemes for the agricultural development of the estates so dealt with.

I discussed the matter during the past week with Mr. John Fitzgibbon, Chairman of the Roscommon County Council, and he is in entire agreement with me that a resident agricultural instructor should be placed in districts where large estates have been re-arranged and sold, and on estates where a number of migrants are settled on new holdings of good land which requires more intensive cultivation than was necessary on the bad land to which the migrants are accustomed. He told me he believes his County Council will take up the matter enthusiastically if the Department of Agriculture will provide the instructors. On one of the Board's farms, Bohagh, there are suitable buildings, a dwelling with suitable out-offices attached, for an agricultural instructor. There is, surrounding the dwellinghouse, land in the Board's hands, and the Board could give with the house such area as the Department may think necessary. The instructor could keep on the farm a bull, boar, and stock fowl; show the people how to plough the land; cultivate suitable crops; assist them to get the best seeds; to market to advantage the surplus produce; how to stall-feed a few cattle every year; and in fact to make the most of everything that the land would produce. It may be considered advisable that the instructor's holding should be a type of the migrants, and he should be required to keep accounts, showing the receipts and expenses on his holding. If suitable migrants will come to the grass lands in the Board's hands in the neighbourhood of Bohagh House, and further grass lands which the Board is likely to acquire in this district, Bohagh will be very central for the instructor to settle in, as he would have within an area of  $1\frac{1}{2}$  miles about 50 migrants, and within a radius of 5 miles, possibly up to 200. The cost involved should be a matter of adjustment between the Board and the Department.

I would like definite instructions before proceeding further with making final arrangements for the disposal of these lands.

(Signed), HENRY DORAN.

2.—COPY OF BOARD'S LETTER TO ROSCOMMON COUNTY COUNCIL.

CONGESTED DISTRICTS BOARD FOR IRELAND,
23, RUTLAND-SQUARE, DUBLIN,
11th March, 1907.

SIR,—I am directed by the Congested Districts Board to forward for the information of the County Council the enclosed copy of a Report submitted to the Board by their Chief Land Inspector, Mr. Doran, on the subject of migration of tenants from the congested districts to untenanted lands which the Board have purchased in the County of Roscommon. As Mr. Doran's Report raises important issues as to the best mode of utilising untenanted land for the relief of congestion, the Board would be glad to be made acquainted with the views of the County Council on the subject before they proceed to consider it further.

I am to add that the Board would be glad to depute some of their members to discuss this important matter with the County Council, or to discuss it with a deputation from the Council at the next meeting of the Board, which will be held on 12th April—whichever arrangement is most agreeable to the County Council.

I am,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

(Signed), J. R. O'BRIEN.

The Secretary,

Roscommon County Council.
